Portfolio Summary:

- Portfolio Equity: $672.44
- S&P 500 Equivalent: $760.80
- Gap to Benchmark: -$88.36 (-11.6%)
- Cash: $207.68 (30.9%)
- Holdings: 4 of 5 slots filled
- ECVT stopped out May 29 at $13.24 (-$3.74 P&L, -5.4% from entry)

Week-over-Week Changes:

- OSPN entered May 26 (12 shares @ $13.00) -- already +11.1%
- ECVT stopped out May 29 (stop triggered at $13.24, filled at $13.24) -- P&L -$3.74
- WKC broker stop raised to $26.50/$26.35 per Week 36 recommendation
- Net equity change: $672.44 vs $653.13 (Week 36) = +$19.31 (+3.0%)

Per-Holding Notes:

WKC ($28.81, +10.8% from entry): Thesis fully confirmed. Marine GP +82% YoY remains the anchor thesis. FY26 adj-EPS guide $2.65-$2.85. Trading near 52-week high. Morgan Stanley Underweight at $25 PT is stale and increasingly irrelevant. Raymond James Outperform. The position is small (2 shares, 8.6% of equity) -- the stop at $26.50 locks in breakeven. No new material news this week.

ACCO ($3.96, +1.0% from entry): Week 36 thesis flagged this as the recycling candidate: "if flat through Week 37, capital may be better deployed elsewhere." ACCO is functionally flat (+1.0%) after 3 weeks of holding. Q1 revenue beat (+8% YoY) was EPOS-driven, not organic. Market wants proof of organic growth. EPOS integration is progressing ($15.2M Q1 contribution, $80M FY26 run-rate expected). Conviction downgraded to 2/5. Decision: keep one more week with tight stop; if still flat at Week 38, recycle into higher-beta candidate.

SHO ($10.82, +6.1% from entry): Q1 was strong -- RevPAR +14.6% to $255.04, Adjusted EBITDAre +18.3% to $67.7M, FFO $0.27/sh (+28.6%). $458.3M buyback remaining (24% of market cap). Repurchased 3.86M shares YTD at avg $9.11. However, adjusted EBITDAre guidance lowered to $226-240M. The guidance reduction is a concern but the massive buyback provides a price floor. Dividend $0.09/quarter (3.5% yield at entry). Conviction remains 4/5 -- buyback and valuation discipline offset guidance softness.

OSPN ($14.44, +11.1% from entry): Best performer this week. Q1 EPS $0.39 beat $0.35 consensus. ARR $192M (+14% YoY), subscription revenue +8%. $50M buyback launched May 11. Analyst consensus Buy, PT $16.25 (+12.5% upside). The +11.1% gain in 3 trading days validates the screener-sourced entry. Conviction upgraded from 2/5 to 3/5 based on: (1) independent verification of ARR growth, (2) confirmed buyback with real board authorization, (3) analyst consensus confirms thesis. Minimum 5-day hold in effect -- do not adjust stop until 5 trading days complete (next eligible: June 2).

4. CANDIDATE SET

Candidate Evaluation -- Screener & Analyst-Sourced:

IMPP -- SELECTED for 5th slot. Q1 revenue $61.7M (+25.8% beat), EPS $0.58 (+67.3% beat). Best quarterly performance in company history (per press release). Fleet expanding from 21 to 26 vessels by end of Q3 2026. Post-earnings cooldown: earnings reported May 22; 5 trading days elapsed = CLEARED. Distance-from-base: 50-day SMA ~$4.71; current $5.41 = +14.9% above (within 40% limit). 20-day SMA estimated ~$5.10; current $5.41 = +6.1% above (within 20% limit). Above 20-day SMA: PASS. Energy sector creates 2/5 energy positions with WKC -- within sector cap. Bear case: Seeking Alpha has published bearish theses ("permanent value trap") citing related-party management agreement with Stealth Maritime (Vafias family), concentrated 74% insider ownership, and historical dilution risk. These governance concerns are real but manageable for a momentum trade with strict stop discipline.

CRNC -- REJECTED (distance-from-base). Stock broke out from $9.20 to $12.83 (+39%). Estimated 20-day SMA ~$10.50; current price 22% above = EXCEEDS 20% limit. Additionally, Q2 EPS $0.04 missed $0.14 consensus despite revenue beat. Amazon lawsuit is options-like upside but uncertain. 13.6% short interest adds squeeze potential but also downside risk.

AIOT -- REJECTED (fundamental weakness). Down 33% YTD despite Accenture partnership. GF Value $4.25 suggests 18% undervaluation, but the persistent decline signals deeper issues. Beta 2.66 adds uncompensated volatility. Would create 2 Technology positions with OSPN (assuming IoT classification under Technology).

CLPT -- REJECTED (loss-making, widening losses). Revenue +43% is impressive but EPS -$0.32 missed -$0.27 estimate. Losses widening despite revenue growth. Not appropriate for an aggressive posture where we need immediate alpha.

CDZI -- REJECTED (distant catalyst). Bureau of Reclamation regulatory review is long-duration (months to years). No near-term price catalyst within 10 trading days. Speculative water-rights play.

PRGS -- REJECTED (outside catalyst window, broken chart). Next earnings June 29 is 21 trading days away -- outside the 10-day session directive. Stock -55% from 52-week high ($65.50 to $29.72) signals structural issues. Citi lowered PT to $46. Would create 2 Technology positions with OSPN.

MGTX -- REJECTED (revenue miss). FDA Breakthrough designation is strong, but Q1 revenue miss undermines near-term momentum. Biotech binary risk without clear date-certain catalyst within 10 days.

5. PORTFOLIO ACTIONS

Keep:

- WKC -- thesis confirmed, near 52-week high, raise trailing stop to lock in gains
- SHO -- buyback floor intact, Q1 beat validated, dividend yield provides carry
- OSPN -- +11.1% Week 1, ARR momentum confirmed, minimum 5-day hold active

Add to: None -- no existing positions warrant adding (OSPN already near 26% of equity)

Trim: None -- no position has reached +30% partial-profit threshold

Exit: None -- no stops breached, no thesis breaks

Watch (conditional exit):

- ACCO -- conviction downgraded to 2/5. If still flat (+/- 3%) at Week 38, recycle capital into higher-beta candidate. Stop at $3.53/$3.43 provides -9.9% max drawdown from entry.

Initiate:

- IMPP -- 19 shares @ $5.40 limit -- Q1 earnings blowout, fleet expansion catalyst, post-earnings pullback creates entry. Fills the open 5th slot. Conviction 3/5.

Stop Adjustments:

- WKC: Raise stop from $26.50/$26.35 to $27.90/$27.75 -- locks in +$1.90/share profit (+7.3% from entry). ATR(14) ~$0.50; stop is 1.82x ATR below current = adequate.
  - SHO: Raise stop from $9.40/$9.30 to $10.00/$9.90 -- still below 50-day SMA area, provides 7.6% cushion from current price. ATR(14) ~$0.20; stop is 4.1x ATR below current = conservative.
  - OSPN: No change -- maintain $12.00/$11.90 until 5-day minimum hold expires (June 2). Re-evaluate at Week 38.
  - ACCO: No change -- maintain $3.53/$3.43.

- No position exceeds 30% cap (OSPN at 25.8% is largest) -- PASS
- OSPN approaching 30% -- if it rises another +16%, will trigger monitoring. Flag for trim review if >28%.
- 2 Energy positions (WKC 8.6% + IMPP 15.3% = 23.9%) -- within sector cap (max 2 of 5) -- PASS

Cash Remaining After Trades

- Pre-trade cash: $207.68
- IMPP purchase: -$102.60 (19 x $5.40)
- Post-trade cash: $105.08 (15.6% of equity)

*WKC stop is above entry -- would lock in profit if triggered.

Worst-case scenario (all stops triggered simultaneously): equity would decline by ~$35.11 (net of WKC profit) = -5.2% of current equity. This is within acceptable risk bounds.

8. MONITORING PLAN

WKC (World Kinect) -- Week 38

- Watch for continued momentum above $29; if breaks $30, consider profit-taking review
- Monitor marine GP margin sustainability -- any industry data on bunker fuel demand
- Watch for insider transactions (10b5-1 plan sales are pre-scheduled, non-material)
- Morgan Stanley PT at $25 is irrelevant at current levels; watch for upgrade catalysts
- Action trigger: If closes below $27.90, stop activates; review thesis

ACCO (ACCO Brands) -- Week 38 (CRITICAL)

- This is the recycling decision week. If stock remains within +/-3% of current ($3.84-$4.08), begin exit planning
- Monitor EPOS integration progress -- any customer wins or margin improvement data
- Watch for office products seasonal weakness heading into summer
- If Q2 guidance is reiterated or raised, may extend hold
- Action trigger: Break below $3.53 triggers exit; break above $4.15 extends hold

SHO (Sunstone Hotel Investors) -- Week 38

- Monitor for additional buyback disclosures (next 10-Q expected)
- Watch hotel RevPAR data -- summer travel season should support thesis
- Track interest rate expectations -- rate cuts could boost REIT valuations
- Guidance reduction to $226-240M EBITDA needs watching; any further reduction is thesis-negative
- Action trigger: If closes below $10.00, stop activates

OSPN (OneSpan) -- Week 38

- 5-day minimum hold expires June 2 -- reassess stop level
- Monitor for $50M buyback execution (any 10b-18 filing or volume patterns)
- Watch cybersecurity sector news -- any major breaches boost demand thesis
- Next earnings expected late July -- no near-term binary risk
- Track analyst PT revisions -- consensus at $16.25 provides +12.5% upside target
- Action trigger: If +30% from entry ($16.90), trigger partial-profit review

IMPP (Imperial Petroleum) -- Week 38 (if filled)

- Verify fill and place stop ($4.80/$4.70) with broker immediately
  - Monitor shipping rates -- any industry data on tanker/dry bulk rates
  - Watch for fleet delivery announcements (Eco Crossfire delivered April; 4 dry bulk + 1 tanker pending)
  - Track related-party disclosures -- any Stealth Maritime management fee changes
  - Pre-open verification required: Check Monday 6/2 pre-market. If pre-market down >2%, downgrade to limit at pre-market price or pass.
  - Action trigger: Day-1 drawdown rule -- if closes -8% or worse on entry day, exit at next open

Overall Portfolio Thesis -- Week 37 of 52

Portfolio enters Week 37 at $672.44 equity (+3.0% WoW), trailing the S&P equivalent by $88.36 (-11.6%). The ECVT stop-out was a controlled exit -- the stop-limit system worked exactly as designed, capping the loss at -$3.74 (-5.4% from entry). OSPN's +11.1% gain in 3 days validates the screener-sourced entry discipline and partially compensates for the ECVT loss.

Portfolio Structure (post-IMPP fill):

5 positio
Sector div

Alpha Strategy for Remaining 15 Weeks:

The -11.6%

- OSPN continues its trajectory toward the $16.25 analyst PT (+12.5% from current)
- IMPP re-rates on fleet expansion news and Q2 earnings momentum
- WKC breaks $30 resistance (has been consolidating near 52-week high)
- ACCO is recycled at Week 38 into a higher-conviction name

Scenarios (Week 37 to 38):

- Bull (25%): OSPN continues to $15.50, IMPP fills and holds, WKC breaks $30, SHO grinds higher on summer travel -> equity $700-$720
- Base (50%): Holdings consolidate, IMPP fills flat, ACCO stays dead -> equity $670-$700
- Bear (25%): Market pullback, IMPP day-1 drawdown triggers exit, ACCO approaches stop -> equity $640-$665. Max stop-trigger downside: $37.91 (5.6% of equity)
